

Joe,

Things are certainly moving into right direction.Finally!!! Luba has started her training yesterday and she is giving resignation notices to her current employers and soon will be in the restaurant full time learning from guys.I will wait to hear from Anthony.As far as I remember he was requesting executed contract which is not in my possession yet.

Will stay in touch.Again i would like to thank you for all your detailed support .Without you this deal would never happened and I truly mean that:))).

Best regards,

Eddie—la cappanina Pizza